Professor Yadav began his talk with the Olympic motto "Citius, Altius, Fortius" which means . Faster, Higher and Stronger`. This motto to be adapted in building the research culture in any academic Institute. He also elaborated on Ekalavya model of teaching which emphasizes on all should get education . Education by philanthropy is easily possible in the current digitally connected world. He said education should be student centric and job oriented. He also suggested dissemination of knowledge to all stakeholders. All the three pillars of institute such as Governance, Leadership and Management should be willing for research and innovations.

It is also a very important component of Ranking process and promotion of quality. He discussed in details the Ranking parameters in detail such as

- Faculty and its diversity
- Students and diversity
- Quality of faculty and students , Catch 22 situation
- Spread and diversity of Alumni
- Access to high end facilities
- Research output as patent and publication
- Quality of support staff
- Publicity :PRO

Many deserving institutes in India could get autonomy due to TEQIP, which allowed to set new vision, mission and values. The research can be improvised by promoting multidisciplinary work.
