The students and faculty of MES's H.K. College of Pharmacy conducted a campaign at Andheri railway station to educate the public on the vital role pharmacists play in the Indian healthcare industry. Through slogans and vibrant posters, students effectively communicated the implications of developing “Diabetes Type-II”, a disease developed due to sedentary and undisciplined lifestyle choices. They also advocated against “Drug Abuse” and emphasized that medications are to be consumed strictly under the supervision/prescription of a registered medical practitioner.

The posters & banners made the campaign informative and its objectives were easily comprehended by the people. Positive feedback from the public was received, as the people were familiarized with the consequences of developing “Diabetes Type II” and the dangers of “Drug Abuse”.
